

M. Vittoria Laurita

35 years ago, with a degree in Business & Administration, M. Vittoria choose a career as an auditor, and she still is an auditor, (which can be considered a miracle indeed!). After some years in Deloitte, she joined a small Italian audit company, which she took over almost 20 years ago with a colleague and associate (Sergio Bona).

She has been always working with leader international groups operating in many different industries and markets, from watches to baby food, from machine tools to Internet, providing audit services (under the requirements of Italian GAAP, IFRS, USA and German GAAP) and a wide range of consultancy services.

Hallmarks of her activity during the years are a most comprehensive knowledge and a constant cooperation with the clients, in some cases over more than 30 years.

The core of any business is understanding the client, its activity, understanding people, and M. Vittoria thinks audit is not different: not only a matter of figures, but a matter of understanding.

Family, friends, books, good Italian food, red wine, and a bit of travelling are as important as clients (or more!). M. Vittoria joined EAI some years ago, finding a community of friends, with similar business and similar professional skills. People with whom share experiences, information, and business opportunities.
