

MARIA J. ESTEBAN

Maria José Esteban is an Associate Professor at ESADE Business and Law School, and an Affiliated Researcher at the Harvard Law School Center on the Legal Profession, where she currently co-directs a research project on the role of multidisciplinary networks in the global market for legal services.

Dra. Esteban's research interests are focused on strategic quality management and innovation in law firms, as well as on the social, economic and regulatory analysis of the legal profession. She publishes in leading scholarly journals, and is a frequent speaker at professional and academic conferences.

A partner at Bufete Escuro, she is a Spanish licenced lawyer included in the Best Lawyers list for Spain since 2010, holds a PhD in Business Administration, and has been recently elected as a member of the Real Academia de Doctores.